THE HUNGRY ARAB .- An Arab was lost in the desert. For two days, he found nothing to eat and was in danger of death from starvation, until, finally, he discovered a fountain, from which travelers were accustomed to water their camels. Near the fountain, lying upon the sand, he saw a leather sack. "God be praised!" said he, as he raised and felt it-"these are, I believe, dates, or nuts In this sweet hope, he opened the sack, saw the contents, and cried out full of sorrow: "Alas! they are only Pearls!" St. Louis Gazette.

A GOOD ONE .- A Millerite who had been lecturing not long ago on Kent Island, Maryland, turing not long ago on Kent Island, Maryland, was told, at one of his meetings, that the people of that region strongly contemplated riding him on a rail, in case he persisted in promulgating his doctrines to the Kent Islanders, to which he made the following very deliberate reply—"If you place a saddle upon the rail, I should greatly prefer it to walking in these muddy streets." The wreck of matter and the crush of worlds is but a small consideration to one who can take things so coolly as this.

spects equal, if not superior, to John Conger's.

And as the said John Conger has manifested so much feeling in relation to our selling Tools that are not his make, we deem it but justice, for the information of the public, to say that the said John Conger learned his trade with the father of and John P. Conger. And as for proof of the quality of the Tools made by John P. Conger, we have abundance; and they do not require the name of John Conger, 33 Attorney-street, to make them saleable.

NOTICE.—Osborn & Lettle appear quite restive, since their detection in the small business in which they have seen fit to engage, and are desirous to justify themselves in various ways, as will be seen by the many alterations in their advertisements. "Let the galled jade wince." They accuse me of falsehood in the statement that they had not my tools to sell. I mean they have not an assortment, and this I can substantiate. Two persons called at Osborn & Little's, and inquired for carrenters' tools of Conger's make—they said they had none. They asked for coopers' tools—they were handed an assortment stamped "Conger," but not the genuine stamp. They were then asked for Conger's, of New-York—they produced one axe and one adze. They were asked for rounding, howeling and hollowing knives—they had none. The fact then, as it appears, is, they have just sufficient to swear by, and those they have procured without my knowas there are tools of my manufacture in the market, clearly showing that they appreciate the advantage they have already, and still hope to gain through it in their business. The stamp upon my tools is thus:

FACTS FOR A DISCRIMI-NATING PUBLIC .- In as much as John Conger of New York, has, in a sories of advertisements, (but not now for the first time) assailed my character and charged upon me the attempt to palm off spurious edge tools by means of the same stamp which he has seen fit to use, but to which he has in fact no right, and as he has seen fit to implicate in the same charge the firm of Osborn & Little, with whom alone my tools are for sale, I deem it my duty to make the following statement and then leave the public to indee who is the smilty rarry. More than deem it my duty to make the following statement and then leave the public to judge who is the guilty party. More than sixty years since, my father, Thomas Conger, followed the business of m king edge tools in the neighboring State of New Jersey, and invariably used the stamp of "Conger," and that too when said John Conger was blowing the bellows to his forge as his apprentice. To that business I was brought up and when my father gave up his business about the year 1822. I continued it, using the same stamp. The above named John Conger was with my father about 5 years as an apprentice and journeyman; he says (inferentially) in his advertisement he never learned anything of my father during that time, if he means by that to slander the dead, as incapable of teaching him, the reputation of my lather's Tools, both at nome and abroad, will stamp falsity upon the assertion.

Upon the contrary, he means that he himself was incapable of being taught, it may be true. And from the fact of his, John Conger's taking the stamp of my father to give currency to tools of his own make, I should rather be inclined to think it in that respect true.

Of one thing, however, I will give John Conger the credit, if the rest of his advertisement he true, and that is of attempt.

Of one thing, however, I will give John Conger the credit, if that part of his advertisement be true, and that is of attempting to be housest in new assuming the stamp which he ought to have taken in the firstplace and left my stamp to those who alone were entitled to it, and not make it the stepping stone to his own success and its unjustifiable use by himself a plea for keeping or attempting to keep others out of the market. As to myself, conscious of never having deviated from the path of right, I shall continue the stamp heretofore used by me and my father before use. As to my tools, they require no other than their owe intrinsic merit to give them character, and I would not now be before the public to assert my own rights in respect to them, had not John Conger basely assailed, with my own, the character of Messrs Osborn & Little, who are and will be in future my sole Agents in this City. and will be in future my sole Agents in this City

However great achievements have here-tofore been made by the use of this invaluable medicine, yet daily experience shows results still more remarkable. The proprietors here avail themselves of the opportunity of saying it is a source of constant satisfaction, that they are made the means of relieving such an amount of suffering.

Messrs. Sands, gent—It is with heartfelt gratitude for your kindness to me that I make a public acknowledgement of the benefit I have received from your Sarsaparilia. I have been for many years afflicted with a cancer in the breast, and for four years it was as I thought incurable; it spread very fast, so that it had nearly covered the whole breast, and for many weeks I was so reduced with the loss of blood and the pain of the wound, that I was unable to turn myself in bed, and my sufferings during the whole winter were more than I can tell. With the advice of my friends I called two of the most emi-nent physicians of the place who recommended your preparation of Saraaparilla, knowing of nothing that would be as likely to help me; which advice I readily received, and be-fore I had taken one bottle I found a change in my feelings which induced me to take more, and when I had taken the thirt bottle I was like another person both in health and strength. I have taken your preparation since last March, and although the wound is not entirely healed it is in a very lavorable state, and I believe it will be the means, ultimately, of my entire cure; and that the afflicted may all find the relief which it alone can give is the wish of their and your friend. EUNICE WOODRUFF. I am the niece of Eunice Woodruff, have been brought up by her, and know what she states to be true, for I have had all the care of her through her sickness.

THERESA DENTON.

I am well acquainted with Miss Woodluff and knew her situation previous to the use of Sands's Sarsaparilla, and have witnessed the surprising effect produced by it, and can therefore endorse fully the above statement.

CONCLUSIVE PROOF OF THE EXTRAORDINARY EFFICACY OF WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.

Haddonfield, New-Jersey, April 20, 1843.

On or about the 13th day of October, 1841, I was taken with a violent pain in the side near the liver, which continued for about five days, and was followed by the breaking of an nicer, or something inwardly, which relieved the pain a little, but caused me to throw up a great quantity of offensive matter and also much blood. Being greatly alarmed at this, I applied to a physician, but he said he though he could do but little for me except give me some Mercury Pills, which I refused to take, feeling satisfied they could do me no good; many other remedies were then procured by my wife and many other remedies were then procured by my wife and friends, but none done me any good, and the discharge of blood and corruption still continued every few days, and at last became so offensive I could scarcely breathe. I was also seized with a violent cough, which at times caused me to raise much more blood than I had done before, and my disease raise much more flood than I had dole before, and my disease continued in this way, still growing worse until February, when all hopes of my recovery were given up, and my friends all thought I would die of a galloping consumption. At this moment, when my life was apparently drawing near its close, I heard of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry and got a bottle, which relieved me immediately, and by the use of only three bottles of this medicine, all my pains were removed, my cough and aplitting of blood and corruption entirely stopped, and a see the weeks my health was so far restored as to enable and in a few weeks my health was so far restored as to enabl me to work at my trade (which is a carpenter) and up to this time I have enjoyed good health. This is not a new medicine. It has been known for years, and its healing influences have been felt by thousands in the vicinity where it has beensold. But no effort has ever before been made to introduce it to the public at large by means of the press. It has been left to work its way silently by its own intrinsic merits, and to depend for its celebrity upon actual experience and the wonderful cures it has effected. The extent of these, and the high and just reputation which it has thous acquired, are manifest from hundreds of testimonials, roluntarily lumished to the proprietor by gentlemen of the medical profession and others who have tried it. It is now, for the first time, advertised in the public journals, in order that its priceless benefits may be made known, and enjoyed more widely by the afflicted who are suffering without a knowledge of its healing powers.

Colds, Coughs, Asthma, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Croup, Wortns, Hemorrage (or raising of blood), and the whole class of diseases affecting the breast and imags, tending to consumption, and other kindred diseases, are controlled by it as by a charm. These complaints are of a most insidious character. They commence with a slight cold, or with some trifling ailment, which, being at first neglected, leads to inflammation, and slowly advance step by step until the constitution gives way, and the victim is brought to the, very verge of the grave.

No person who has any regard for the inestimable blessing of health should be without this mild, pleasant, saie, and yet of the chird of the sound of the city of New York. Minister of the Gospel, and Sarah his wife, to Peter Perry; of the town of order to the county of New York, gentle man, upon all that certain lot, piece or parcel of land, situate, lying and being in the Fifth Ward of the city of New York, gentle-man, upon all that certain lot, piece or parcel of land, situate, lying and being in the Fifth Ward of the city of New York, Minister of the Gospel, and Sarah his wife, to Peter Perry; of flammation, and slowly advance step by step until the constitution gives way, and the victim is brought to the very verye of the grave.

No person who has any regard for the inestimable blessing of health should be without this mild, pleasant, saie, and yet powerful Balsam. In this climate, where thanges of weather are so sudden, and their effects so injurious, it is immensely important. A timely use of it has saved and will tave thousands from the pains of protracted lithness, from beds of languishing, from wasted frames, debilitated constitutions, and even from death itself. The trifling sum paid for a bottle of this extraordinary curative, has often saved vast sums of money which must have been paid for medical attendance during a long course of painful sickness.

With all their wonderful and efficacious powers Da. House Man's German Ceugh Drops are free from every ingredient of a debilitating or dangerous nature. They are a purely vegetable compound, and may be taken with entire safety in all kinds of weather and under all circumstances. The use of this invaluable medicine has also caused great improvement in the health of persons constitutionally feeble, as its effect is to impart toue and vigor to the system, while it in no instance weakens the patient. It acts as a mild healing expectorant, and at the same time as a very gentle tonic. It is in short the strength, vigor, elasticity, and cheerfulness to the weakened frame and the deston by the City; payable in one or two years, with interest conditioning mind.
